Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1 – 8 are presented for examination.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: The claim states, “comprising a Layer 2 switch and VLAN”, where it seems it should read, “comprising a Layer 2 switch and a VLAN”. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 2 – 4 and 6 – 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

5. Claims 2 – 4 and 6 – 8 recite the limitation "the VLAN number". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1 – 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hawthorne, III et al. U.S. Pub. No. 2003/0152075, (hereinafter Hawthorne).

8. Referencing claim 1, as closely interpreted by the Examiner, Hawthorne teaches a content distribution system, which distributes contents from a broadcasting station to a receiving terminal on the Internet, comprising a Layer 2 switch and VLAN (Virtual Local Area Network) used for the distribution of the contents, (e.g., ¶ 0042 – 0044). Furthermore, the limitations in this claim can be found in many corporate Intranets that connect to the Internet.

9. Referencing claim 2, as closely interpreted by the Examiner, Hawthorne teaches said broadcasting station distributes the contents associated with the VLAN number of said VLAN to said Layer 2 switch and said VLAN, (e.g., ¶ 0042 – 0044).

10. Referencing claim 3, as closely interpreted by the Examiner, Hawthorne teaches 3 said receiving terminal receives the contents associated with the VLAN number by belonging to said VLAN based on the VLAN number, (e.g., ¶ 0042 – 0044).

Art Unit: 2143

11. Referencing claim 4, as closely interpreted by the Examiner, Hawthorne teaches said Layer 2 switch includes storage means for storing the received contents associated with the VLAN number, (e.g., ¶ 0042 – 0044).

12. Claims 5 – 8 are rejected for similar reasons stated above.

Conclusion

13. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

14. a. Brown U.S. Patent No. 6754211 discloses Method and Apparatus for wire speed IP multicast forwarding.
